

infancy); Benjamin (1775–1845), who married in 1796 Anna Maria Cooke (ca. 1777–1856). DAUGHTERS: Ann (1772–?), who married in 1792 John Tayloe of “Mt. Airy,” Rappahannock County, Virginia; Mary (1785–1849), who married first, in 1804, George Bevans, and second, by 1816, James Conner of Frederick County. PRIVATE CAREER. EDUCATION: admitted to Eton, 1761. RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION: Anglican; his wife was a birthright Quaker. SOCIAL STATUS AND ACTIVITIES: Gent., by 1770; Esq., by 1773. Ogle owned a racing stable and was a member of the Annapolis Jockey Club. OCCUPATIONAL PROFILE: planter. PUBLIC CAREER. LEGISLATIVE SERVICE: Upper House, 1773–1774 (appointed during or after the Convention of the 1773–1774 Assembly). OTHER PROVINCIAL/STATE OFFICES: Council, 1773–1776 (in office by October 28, 1773); Executive Council, 1783 (elected November 24, 1783, but declined to serve); Governor, 1798–1801. LOCAL OFFICES: Maryland Senate elector, Annapolis, 1806. JURY SERVICE: foreman, grand jury, Annapolis, 1789; juror, Annapolis, 1806. MILITARY SERVICE: 3rd lieutenant in Capt. Samuel Harvey Howard’s Independent Company of Militia, Annapolis, commissioned on June 18, 1781. WEALTH DURING LIFETIME. PERSONAL PROPERTY: assessed value of property, Annapolis and Anne Arundel County only, £1,642.0.0, including 42 slaves, 1783; assessed value of Prince George’s County property £1,120.15.0, including 36 slaves, 1793–1794; gave 8 slaves to his children and grandchildren, 1808. Ogle owed his mother an annuity, which he was unable to pay regularly. In a letter to her written about 1790, he apologized for the “deranged state of my affairs” and said that he owed her more than he was worth. LAND AT FIRST ELECTION: ca. 4,744 acres in Prince George’s and Anne Arundel counties and 2 lots in Annapolis and a house in London (ca. 2,177 acres in Prince George’s County and the London house inherited from his father; the Prince George’s County land was under litigation in the Chancery Court but was confirmed to Ogle in 1774; 2,045 acres in Anne Arundel County acquired through marriage). SIGNIFICANT CHANGES IN LAND BETWEEN FIRST ELECTION AND DEATH: exchanged the London house with Horatio Sharpe (1718–1790) for ca. 2,600 acres in Baltimore and Washington counties and immediately sold the ca. 2,600 acres to John Ridout (1732–1797), 1782; sold ca. 1,100 acres in Anne Arundel County in the late 1780s and early 1790s; gave his land in Prince George’s County, the “Belair” plantation, to his son in 1796 and put his Anne Arundel County land into a trust for the surviving partner of his marriage and his or her heirs. WEALTH AT DEATH. DIED: on July 7, 1809, in Annapolis “after a long and painful illness”; buried on his farm near Annapolis. PERSONAL PROPERTY: owed his mother £8,858.0.0 current money. LAND: ca. 1,300 acres in Anne Arundel County and 2 lots in Annapolis.

OGLE, SAMUEL (ca. 1694–1752). BORN: ca. 1694, in Northumberland, England; probably second son. IMMIGRATED: from St. James’ Parish, Westminster, England; arrived in Annapolis on December 2, 1731, as governor. RESIDED: in England until late 1731 (probably of Newcastle in 1729); Annapolis, Anne Arundel County, 1731 until late 1742; Saville Row, Westminster, London, England, early 1743 until early 1747; Annapolis and “Belair,” Prince George’s County, March 1747 to death. FAMILY BACKGROUND. FATHER: Samuel Ogle (1658–1718/19) of Bousden, Northumberland, England, and Dublin, Ireland; a member of Parliament for Berwick, 1689, 1695, 1698, 1700–1702, 1705, 1708; commissioner for the revenue in Ireland, by 1699—at least 1712; died in Dublin; son of Luke Ogle (1630–1696) of Berwick and Bousden. MOTHER: Elizabeth (?–ca. 1697), widow of Thomas Dawson, of Newcastle, Northumberland, England. STEPMOTHER: by 1701 Ursula, widow of Lord Altham, daughter of Sir Robert Markham and wife Mary. BROTHER: Luke (?–1735), of Newcastle, Northumberland, England. HALF BROTHERS: George (1704–1746), a writer and translator, who married in 1735 Frances, daughter of Sir Frederick Twysden; Robert (ca. 1706–?); and Thomas (ca. 1713–?). SISTER: Mary (?–by 1777), who married John Broughton of Maidstone, Kent, England. HALF SISTER: Meliora (?–ca. 1774) of Dublin, Ireland, who never married. MARRIED between July 5 and July 12, 1741, Anne (1723–1817), daughter of Benjamin Tasker (ca. 1690–1768) and wife Ann (?–1775). Anne was the granddaughter of both Thomas Tasker (?–1700) and William Bladen (1670–1718). She was the niece of Thomas Bladen (1698–1780); Elizabeth Tasker (1686–1706/7), who married Thomas Addison (1679–1727). Her brothers were William (1713–1715); Benjamin (1717–1717); Benjamin Tasker, Jr. (1720/21–1760); Bladen (?–ca. 1721); Bladen (1722–1723); and Bladen (1730–died young). Her sisters were Rebecca (1724–1822), who married Daniel Dulany, Jr. (1722–1797); Elizabeth (1726–1789); and Frances (?–1787). Her nephew was Benjamin