

THE Frederick lynchers deserve credit for one thing, at least. They did not try to emulate the example of the Texans, who burn black ravishers and butcher them.

DR. S. F. SMITH, who wrote "America" and died in Boston Saturday, is being honored as the author of the "National Anthem." But there is only one National Anthem, and a Frederick county man wrote it.

THE prompt but horrible administration of justice to a negro brute in this city yesterday morning was revolting, of course, to every lover of law and order, but it was inevitable in the state of mind that had been reached by the people here over the numerous and too frequently occurring assaults on defenseless white women. How any negro, after the terrible exhibition of mob vengeance yesterday morning, can dare to commit any act against the law and decency of this community in the future none can see, and it is to be hoped the lesson will make a deep and lasting impression. The only complete and accurate account of the assault and lynching is given in THE NEWS today. Upon it the public will be able to base their opinions and draw conclusions.

From out the dreamy past
A grand old air, a dear old strain
Floats back to memory again,
And memory holds it fast.
And still I love its sound as much
As though not knowing every touch.

You love me. Yes, I know;
I know it well, by life and death!
I know it by your latest breath
That whispered, sweet and low.
Ah, me, the music of its vow!
O sweetheart, say you love me now!
—J. EDMOND V. COOKE.

A Cowboy Race.

A patterning rusb like the rattle of hail
When the storm king's wild couragers are out on the trail.

A long roll of hoofs—and the earth is a drum!

The Centaur! Beel Over the prarie
they come!

A rollicking, clattering, battering beat;
A rhythmical thunder of galloping feet;
A whiff swirling dust cloud—a mad hurricane

Of swarthy grim faces and tossing black mane.

Hurrah! In the face of the steeds of the sun

The gauntlet is flung and the race is begun!

—J. C. Davis.

D. H. BEST.

SOROSIS

No. Fourteen (14) as shown of Real Estate and Improvement Second sub-division of Part of recorded among the Land Record County.

The improvements consist frame dwelling house and, has ing nine rooms. Main building
ft. with wing about 12x13 ft.
stable on the lot about 10x12

Terms of Sale:—One half of money to be paid in cash on 1 on the ratification thereof by residue in six months, the pur-chasee, giving his, her, or the proved security bearing inter-of sale. All conveyancing at the purchaser. A deposit of tax lars will be required of the p
time of sale.

SAMUEL

(Brunswick Herald copy)

NOAH E. CRAMER

NOAH E. CRAMER,
REAL ESTATE & FIRE

Call and have your property
and reliable Fire Insurance Co.
Stocks, Bonds and Marine Inon Commission.

FOR SALE.

1st.—Desirable building lo-
Second Street

2nd.—Mrs. Anna M. Grove's land, good buildings, near Bra-

3rd.—Agent, 1 lot at 1
country seat, known as "Rose"

to the heirs of the late David C uated one mile North of Er-

Woodboro Turnpike road, co-
178 acres of rich land, fenced

The improvements consist of main house, barn, carriage outbuildings. This is an extunity to buy such property

comes in the market.

4th.—5 charts F. and M. bar
5th.—Frederick and Loud
6th.—D. Z. Ston Brick
5th St.