To the Hon. Lloyd L. Rowles;
Dear Sir;

Will you be good enough to furnish me for publication in a symposium of governors' opinions in the leading newspapers of the country, your opinion of the solution of the lynching problem as proposed in the inaugural of Gov. Mount of Indiana, who suggests legislation holding as responsible the county in which the lynching occurs, and permitting the recovery of damages from the county by the relatives of the victim who may sue the county? Will this decrease lynching by forcing the county authorities to preserve better order?

Very respectfully yours

R. K. Smith
